CELEBRATION OF CRAFTSWOMEN

Celebration of Craftswomen, the largest women's fine craft fair in the nation, salutes the Arts and Crafts Movement with its annual holiday show and sale. The event showcases the latest work by 300 top women artisans and fine artists from diverse cultural backgrounds. Every item available at the show is handcrafted form beginning to end by an individual artist.

Celebration of Craftswomen honors the individual artist and the creative spirit behind each piece of limited-edition work. On display are functional and decorative ceramic and glass vessels; sculpted wood and metal works; polymer clay, beaded, stone, and precious metal jewelry; woven, painted silk, and leather clothing and other wearables; household furniture and accessories; fine art sculpture, photography, watercolor and oil paintings; and children's toys.

The fair, a benefit for the San Francisco Women's Building, also features live music along with gourmet food and beverage service. Each weekend, many of the participants donate wares to the Silent Auction and Benefit Raffle, both important components of the fund-raising effort for the Women's Building. Donated pieces are on display at the pavilion entrance.

Celebration of Craftswomen takes place in the Festival Pavilion November 24 and 25 and December 1 and 2, Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 6pm. Admission is $7 for adults, $5 for seniors, free for children under 12. A two-day pass is $10. Parking with shuttle service is available from the Marina Middle School parking lot, on Bay Street at Webster. For information, call (415) 383-3470 or visit www.proeventusa.com.

Local company Printz Dance Project presents "Left Of Center," featuring five new works and one repertory piece. Choreographer Stacey Printz considers her work "fusion dance," a blend based in modern dance but incorporating styles ranging from modern to jazz, hip-hop, and ethnic forms.

"L7" is "a hard-edged, raw dance exploring the repercussions of one's own closed-minded, prejudiced attitudes," performed to new synthesized music by San Francisco composer Mathew Kratz. "First Duet" is an intimate portrayal of the first encounter between two people as they realize their physical and emotional connection. "Swimming" uses water, at times peaceful and calm, at times tumultuous, as a metaphor for life.

Also on the program is Colorado-based Open Door Dance Theatre presenting two pieces showcasing its beautiful "sculptural-contact" movement style.

"Left Of Center" is presented in the Cowell Theater November 29 through December 1, Thursday through Saturday at 8pm. Admission is $16 general, $14 students and seniors. For tickets, call the Fort Mason Center box office, (415) 345-7575. For information, call (415)927-3253 or visit www.printzdance.org.

SMUIN BALLETS/SF

Smuin Ballets/SF opens its eighth season with the world premiere of "Verdi, Verdi Good," Michael Smuin's centennial tribute to the celebrated opera composer Giuseppe Verdi. "I'm looking to create a work that is a subtle satire on the classical tutu ballet style," said Smuin. "The work will be set on three couples and draw from the ballet music used in Verdi's operas Jerusalem, I Vespri Siciliani, Don Carlo and Il Trovatore."

"To The Beatles, Revisited 2002" features the full company in twelve popular and familiar songs recorded by the "Fab Four" from Liverpool. The work was first created by Smuin in 1984 for the San Francisco Ballet. For this company premiere, seven songs from the original work have been restaged, while five new songs have been added.

The program concludes with "Starshadows," a lyrical pas de deux set to the Andante movement of Maurice Ravel's Piano Concerto in G Major, and "Homeless," a muscular solo work for dancer Hernán Piquin set to the music of Paul Simon.

The performances are presented in the Cowell Theater November 2 through 4, Friday and Saturday at 8pm, Sunday at 2pm; and November 7 through 18, Wednesday through Friday at 8pm, Saturday at 2 and 8pm, and Sunday at 2pm. Tickets are $30 and $35. For information, call (415) 978-2787 or visit www.smuinballets.com.

CLAY & GLASS FESTIVAL

The San Francisco Clay & Glass Festival showcases imaginative decorative and functional work crafted by some of California's most prominent ceramic and glass artists. From brilliantly glazed bowls and plates to shimmering handblown glassware and original jewelry, the Festival offers a pleasant environment for holiday shopping. All artists are present at their booths, giving visitors an opportunity to meet the makers of these outstanding contemporary crafts.

Featured are Lisa Aronzon's hand-blown glass bowls and vases, with broad swaths of color reminiscent of stained-glass windows; Donald Jower's teapots and rattles, inspired by creatures of the sea and shore; Lynn Wood's delicate porcelain tableware; Jacqueline Thompson's humorous dinnerware with designs inspired by tattoos; and brightly colored sculptural forms by Dorothy Sovinsky.

The Festival, with more than 125 craft artists, takes place in the Herbst Pavilion November 3 and 4, Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 5pm. Admission is $6 for adults, $5 for seniors; children under 12 are free. A $1 discount coupon is available online at the ACGA Web site. For information, call (415) 507-9909 or visit www.acga.net.

SEVEN-STAR GENERAL

Hua Yi is a San Francisco-based nonprofit organization established in 1992 by a group of Chinese immigrants. It includes recent immigrants as well as new citizens from throughout the Bay Area, from entrepreneurs, computer engineers and business owners to lawyers and students. Bound together by a common vision, the core management team has dedicated its efforts to promoting Chinese culture through the performing arts.

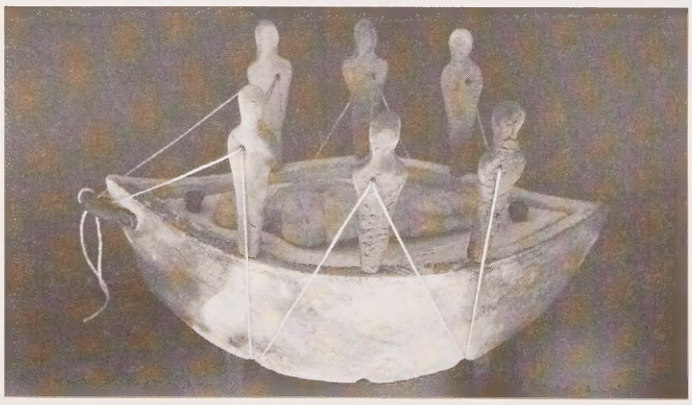
The organization has successfully presented many classical and modern stage performances introducing Chinese traditions to Bay Area residents and has created opportunities for talented Chinese performing artists.

The Hua Yi Chinese Performing Group brings an award-winning comedy from Taiwan to San Francisco for two performances over the Thanksgiving weekend. Seven-Star General satirizes the disorderly life of modern Taiwan. A scholar who has returned with a Ph.D. from the United States has seven ladies in his life—his wife and six girlfriends. Ultimately, all of them discover that he is just a playboy, and he is left alone. Playwright/director Tom Tsuei won Taiwan's Educational Art Award for this work. The play is performed in Mandarin with English supertitles.

The Hua Yi Performing Group hopes to inspire American-born Chinese with a strong sense of ethnic identity, and to encourage new American citizens to overcome cultural barriers. Hua Yi strives to "intrigue Bay Area residents by telling the best stories of both worlds!"

Seven-Star General is presented in the Cowell Theater November 24 and 25, Saturday at 8pm, Sunday at 3pm. Admission is $15, $14 for seniors and students. For tickets, call the Fort Mason Center box office, (415) 345-7575. For information about Hua Yi, call (415) 274-2284 or visit server37.hypermart.net/hwayi.

ASHES TO ART



Journey by Cathryn McCormick

Based on a compelling concept that art and beauty sanctify life, "Ashes To Art" is the first juried international fine art/fine craft exhibition of its kind. The show features sculpture that is intended to ultimately function as a container, urn, vessel or reliquary for keeping or dispersing funerary ashes following cremation.

Approximately a hundred sculptural objects created by 80 artists are presented at this precedent-setting event. The pieces on display, stunning in their beauty and originality, also are available for purchase.

The exhibition is presented by Funeria, a new events and online fine art venue specializing in funerary urns and vessels. The organization is an outgrowth of Tannery Creek Press, a publishing company founded by Maureen Lomasney in 1992. The primary focus of the publishing company has been to help individuals find the words and means to honor their own lives, or the lives of those they love.

"The most important revelation we hope an eager public will embrace is in seeing their interests, personalities, and ultimately themselves or someone they love being honored in the artwork," said Lomasney, Funeria's design director. "Choices available in funerary urns have been limited and generally impersonal for too long....and we believe that artists hold the key."

Funeria will donate $1 from every admission to the Uniformed Firefighters' Association of Greater New York Local 94 for its UFA Widows and Children's Fund. For information about the Fund, visit ufalocal94.org.

"Ashes To Art" is presented in the Firehouse, with a preview reception November 29, Thursday from 6 to 9pm. The exhibition is on view November 30 through December 2, from 10am to 6pm. Admission is $5. For information, call (707) 829-1966 or visit www.funeria.com.

SHELBY ON STRAYHORN & ELLINGTON

The Duke Ellington Society presents Marcus Shelby, with tenor Antoine Garth, in a discussion about the interaction between Billy Strayhorn and Ellington.

In 1938 Strayhorn, at the age of 23, offered his composition Lush Life to Ellington. Less than a year later, he had become an arranger and pianist with Ellington's band, a collaboration that lasted until Strayhorn's death in 1967. Among the works composed by Strayhorn alone or with Ellington are the classics Take The A Train, Chelsea Bridge, Passion Flower, and Johnny Come Lately.

Marcus Shelby is a master of the bass, a bandleader, composer, and a partner of the San Francisco-based label Noir Records, which produces art music, Classical, Jazz, spoken word and other progressive non-mainstream music. He also has composed four full-length ballets, numerous film scores, and appeared with his bass in two major Hollywood films. He considers Duke Ellington and Wynton Marsalis among the significant influences in his life.

The Bay Area Chapter of the Duke Ellington Society (there are several worldwide) is devoted to the works of this musical genius. Meetings often include guest speakers, with a typical program focusing on one or more aspects of the music and the man, often featuring rare or unusual recordings, and sometimes videos of historic note like the Oscar-winning "A Great Day in Harlem."

The Shelby on Strayhorn meeting is November 4, Sunday at 2pm in Room 260, Building C. The general admission fee for this program is $7. For more information, call (415) 563-5458.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING

It's time to start thinking about those perfect gifts for all of the holidays that are almost here. Fort Mason Center provides an opportunity to find something just a little different, while avoiding the downtown crowds. Here's a sampling of some possibilities to help you plan ahead.

San Francisco Fall Antiques Show
An extraordinary array of everything under the sun, from the tiny and exquisite to the monumental and stunning. The 20th annual show features 70 notable antiques dealers from Europe and the US. The show takes place in the Festival Pavilion November 1 through 4. See November 1. For information, call (415) 546-6661 or visit www.ehss.org.

Whale Watch Expeditions
What could be a better adventure for the family or a group of friends than a day on the high seas, looking for whales? The gray whale's annual southbound journey past San Francisco Bay coincides with the holidays, making Whale Watch gift certificates a unique seasonal gift.

The trips depart from San Francisco, Half Moon Bay, and Bodega Bay, from December 26 through May 12, 2002. The gift certificates can be purchased by themselves or with a companion volume, The Oceanic Society Field Guide to the Gray Whale. Mailing is available. The nonprofit Oceanic Society has offered expert naturalist-led expeditions for 27 years. For details, call (415) 441-1106 or visit www.oceanic-society.org.

Bodies Of Spirit Morani Portrait by Lisa Kristine

Bodies Of Spirit
This exhibition of amazing hand-printed Ilfochromes of indigenous cultures world-wide is the work of documentary photographer Lisa Kristine. She has created a stunning depiction of "the commonalities of human culture and the beauty of diversity." "Bodies Of Spirit" is presented in the Gatehouse. The opening reception with wine and hors d'oeuvres is Saturday, November 3 from 6 to 9pm. The show and sale is open Sunday, November 4 from 11am to 5pm. Admission is free. For information, call (415) 931-5885 or visit www.migrationphotography.com.

Book Sale
The Book Sale is always a treasure trove of bargains, and sometimes of precious surprises. All books are $1 or less. Hi Ho is open for an extended run for gift shopping: November 16 through December 9, Friday through Sunday. See November 16. For information, call (415) 771-4446 or visit www.hihosilver. com.

Guardsmen Tree Sale
A favorite harbinger of the holidays, the annual sale of Christmas trees and decorations is presented by The Guardsmen, a San Francisco service organization. A family outing to select a tree and plan the decorations could be one of the best gifts of all. It's the largest indoor tree lot in the Bay Area, with everything from tiny tabletop trees to huge evergreens for commercial spaces. This year it's in the Herbst Pavilion, November 23 through December 19, daily from 9am to 9pm. Admission is free. For information, call (415) 561-2700 or visit www.guardsmen.org.

Holiday Gift Shop
The Museum of Craft & Folk Art's Holiday Gift Shop offers a wide variety of unique handcrafted gifts from around the world. Included are intriguing and exotic holiday ornaments, a variety of dolls, unusual toys, small boxes, ceramics, wonderful cushions from India and the usual selection of quality jewelry from near and far. In addition, the shop now showcases a wide range of high-quality items by local craft artists, as well as many whimsical stocking stuffers. See Galleries page for shop schedule. The Museum of Craft & Folk Art is located in Landmark Building A. For information, call (415) 775-0991, ext. 109, or visit www.mocfa.org.

Fort Mason Printmakers
Enjoy a colorful palette of some of the Bay Area's best printmakers at this annual show and sale. More than 80 artists associated with the City College of San Francisco Fort Mason Art Campus offer etchings, woodcuts, monoprints, linoleum cuts and lithographs. Many students, ranging in age from 20 to 80, are showing their work for the first time; others have shown for more than 30 years.

The show takes place in Rooms 205 and 208, Landmark Building B. The opening preview and reception is Friday, November 30 from 6 to 9pm, with the sale continuing December 1 and 2, Saturday and Sunday from 10am to 6pm. Admission is free. For information, call (415) 561-1860.

FIELD OF DREAMS

Baseball legend Hank Aaron is the keynote speaker for the 2nd annual Field of Dreams gathering and celebration. The evening is a benefit for Vision Youthz, an innovative community organization dedicated to serving at-risk youth through personal development, mentoring, and community building.

Field of Dreams is an opportunity for celebrities, corporate supporters, and members of the community to show their support for inner-city youth. It's a perfect combination of community enrichment and fun, offering involvement plus live jazz and exquisite refreshments provided through sponsorships by some of the Bay Area's finest restaurants, hotels, wineries and beverage companies.

Vision Youthz is grounded in the belief that each young person has something to contribute to the larger community. The organization's objective is to help provide healthy, reliable support systems as the foundation for personal development and growth.

Using existing resources as well as creating new ones, the program helps meet the educational, vocational, recreational, and personal needs of these young people. The organization has partnerships with UCSF, The San Francisco Foundation, City College, the SF Conservation Corps, Glide Memorial Church Training Services, Huckleberry Youth Programs, Building Visions, The Mentoring Center, the National Maritime Museum, Big City Mountaineers, Hidden Villa, Wilderness Awareness School, and Young Community Developers.

The buffet dinner/reception takes place in the Conference Center, Landmark Building A, on November 16, Fridays from 9am to 4pm. Admission is $20 for both days; reservations are required. For information, call (415) 621-4808 or visit www.immigrantvoice.org.

TASTING 2001

Family Winemakers of California presents Tasting 2001, with more than 300 wineries pouring a thousand different wines. The popular annual event is defined by the craftsmanship of the products. Wineries range from industry icons to small family-owned operations producing 500-case gems.

Tasting 2001 demonstrates the enormous range of California vintages, regional differences, and winemaking styles. It's an opportunity to sample great wines and meet the makers behind some of California's finest wineries. More than 50 participants are making their debut this year.

Family Winemakers of California is a nonprofit trade organization representing small, family-owned wineries before the California legislature and state regulatory agencies. The annual tasting also is a fund-raiser for FWC. This year, the auction of collectible wines, many in unique bottle sizes, is 100% online at www.winebid.com. The auction helps support the tasting, which has more than doubled in size in the past four years. The auction runs from October 28 through November 11. Visit the FWC Web site for a list of auction items.

Free parking, with a shuttle to the event, is available in the Presidio, along the Marina Green, and at Marina Middle School, on Bay Street at Webster. A map is posted on the FWC Web site.

Tasting 2001 takes place in the Festival Pavilion on Tuesday, November 13, open to the public from 5 to 8pm. Trade and media hours are 2 to 8pm. Admission is $45 at the door, $35 in advance. For tickets, call the Fort Mason Center box office, (415) 345-7575. For information, call (916) 498-7500 or visit www.familywinemakers.org.

RAISING IMMIGRANT VOICES

The Northern California Citizenship Project presents "Raising Immigrant Voices," a two-day conference to bring together a diverse network of organizations dedicated to serving and empowering immigrant communities.

The goal of the conference is to provide the tools and experience needed to help bring about social change. The NCCP is reaching out to organizations from around Northern California with an interest in and commitment to supporting the active involvement of diverse immigrants and refugees in community dialogue and political debate.

Staff and leaders from these organizations, including service providers, labor and community organizers, advocates, adult educators, and other community workers who are interested in meaningful involvement of their immigrant constituents can benefit from this event.

The innovative, participatory learning experience includes interactive discussion, exchange of resources and ideas, workshops introducing effective tools and strategies, cultural performances, and more. Participants also can learn about opportunities offered by NCCP for ongoing networking, information sharing, and customized training and technical assistance.

The program is presented in the Conference Center, Building A, and in Building C on November 9 and 16, Fridays from 9am to 4pm. Admission is $20 for both days; reservations are required. For information, call (415) 621-4808 or visit www.immigrantvoice.org.

WOMEN PHOTOGRAPHERS

Ironworker At Sisco by Barbara Bourne

In a field dominated by white men, women must track a unique and challenging course to find success in professional photography. Four female photographers share their informed insight learned from decades of experience in this exciting and demanding work.

Participating in a panel discussion focusing on assignments in architecture, portraiture, fine art, nature and travel are Barbara Bourne, Margaretta Mitchell, Deborah Prince, and Brenda Tharp. Underwater and location photographer Louisa Preston is the moderator. Questions for the panelists can be e-mailed to prestonstudio@hotmail.com or presented at the event.

Barbara Bourne began her career in 1982 in Washington, DC, where she shot for a local magazine while studying at George Washington University. After moving to St. Louis in 1990, she began focusing on architecture and landscape photography. Along with interiors, her assignments included construction of the TransWorld Dome and the Rams' practice facility. Bourne now resides in the Russian River area, dividing her time among commercial architectural projects, landscapes, and emulsion transfers. Her work may be seen at www.bbourne.com.

Margaretta Mitchell is a highly accomplished commercial and fine art photographer, writer and educator. In addition to portraits, gardens, weddings and other assignments, she exhibits her fine art photography internationally. She is the author of four books, including the recent Ruth Bernhard: Between Art and Life, published last year by Chronicle Books. Her work is included in the book A History of Women Photographers (1994).

Deborah Prince resides in Santa Rosa with her 14-year-old son, one of her primary sources of inspiration. She received a degree in Communications from UC Berkeley and attended photo workshops in Maine. She worked as a freelance photojournalist in California and on the East Coast, then took a hiatus to sell real estate. Becoming a mother, in 1986, was a catalyst for her return to photography and to California. Her specialties include children and people on location and fine art portraiture.

Brenda Tharp specializes in travel, outdoor, and location photography. She has llama-trekked, sea-kayaked, flown in helicopters and hot-air balloons, cycled, and hiked to get her photographs. Her work has appeared in Adventure West, Audubon, Discovery, Sierra, Sunset and Travel Holiday magazines, to name a few. She did the photography for the award-winning books Muir Woods: Redwood Refuge and Marin Headlands: Portals of Time for the Golden Gate National Park Association. Also an accomplished writer, she currently is working on a book about creative outdoor and nature photography to be published by Amphoto Books in 2003. Her work can be viewed at www.brendatharp.com.

The program, presented by the American Society of Media Photographers, takes place in the Conference Center, Landmark Building A, on November 13, Tuesday from 7 to 9:30pm. There is a reception starting at 6pm. General admission is $20. For information, call (415) 777-1070 or visit www.asmpnorcal.org.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A MEETING SPACE?

FORT MASON CENTER has a wide variety of attractive and affordable venues available for workshops, conferences, seminars, performances, and special events.

Our facilities—the Conference Center, Firehouse, Cowell Theater, Herbst and Festival Pavilions, and the meeting and activity rooms—are able to accommodate groups from 5 to 5,000.

Whether you are planning a large conference or trade show, a meeting or a gala, Fort Mason Center's spectacular setting and reasonable rental rates make it an outstanding location for all events and activities.

Our experienced staff accommodates your every need with an eye for detail and an attitude of excellence in a personal and professional manner.

The recently renovated CONFERENCE CENTER and FIREHOUSE feature state of the art lighting, MechoShades, wall to wall carpeting, completely remodeled restrooms and updated heating systems. Both spaces command incredible views of San Francisco Bay, and have access to an outdoor patio area. With breakout rooms and capacities from 20 to 300, the Conference Center and Firehouse are ideal for your next event.

The HERBST and FESTIVAL PAVILIONS are major exhibit and special-event clear-span facilities for up to 5,000 people. The Pavilions, 30,000 and 50,000 square feet respectively, also are available for trade shows, corporate receptions, and large fund-raising events.

The COWELL THEATER, with seating for 437, is fully equipped with sound and lighting systems, dressing rooms, and a projection/control booth. Situated at the north end of the Herbst Pavilion, with spectacular views of San Francisco Bay and the Golden Gate Bridge from the lobby area, the theater is suitable for performances, film showings, press conferences, lectures, meetings and seminars.

The twelve MEETING and ACTIVITY ROOMS and the Gatehouse are located throughout the campus and can accommodate from 5 to 100 participants at very reasonable rates. These spaces are ideal for meetings, classes, rehearsals, retreats and seminars, or as breakout rooms for activities in other Fort Mason Center facilities.

THERE IS FREE PARKING on site and along the beautiful Marina Green, with easy accessibility from all directions. MUNI comes right to our front door.

Located between the Golden Gate Bridge and Fisherman's Wharf on San Francisco's northern waterfront, Fort Mason Center is a unique blend of entertainment and education, open day and night, year-round. A National Historic Landmark and part of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, it's the setting for more than 15,000 events each year.

The HERBST INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION HALL, located in the Presidio of San Francisco, has shown some of the city's premier exhibits, including the Smithsonian Institution's "Ocean Planet" and "European Instruments of Torture" from the Criminal Medieval Museum of San Gimignano, Italy. Standing at the top of the Presidio's historic Main Post, the Exhibition Hall has approximately 8,000 square feet of space and features climate control, secure storage, a ticket office, gift shop, and food service area. The Herbst International Exhibition Hall, a project of the Fort Mason Foundation, attracts culturally diverse exhibits and events that reflect the Foundation's commitment to the community.

Visit our web site, www.fortmason.org, to look at floorplans of the rental spaces. Call (415) 441-3400 for information, Monday through Saturday, from 9am to 5pm, or e-mail sales@fortmason.org.
